

Try Reading This Aloud

This short document exists so you can try Speechify without needing a PDF of your own. Press play below, and the sentence being read is highlighted here on the page, with the exact word inside it marked as it goes.

Jump to any sentence

Tap a sentence anywhere on this page and reading starts there immediately, whether it is the heading above, the middle of this paragraph, or the very last line below. Nothing in between gets replayed.

Adjust the voice and speed

Open the settings panel to change the voice or the reading rate. Both take effect starting with the next sentence, so a change made mid-sentence finishes that one first.

This document continues onto a second page, so scrolling and multi-page playback both have something to show.

Page Two

Reading carries on across the page break without a pause you would notice. Whatever page contains the sentence currently being read scrolls into view automatically.

That is the whole tour. Open a PDF of your own from the button above whenever you are ready.
